GENERAL ELECTION RESULTS RELEASED IN GLENDALÉ CITY COUNCIL SEAT RACES

Three New Councilmembers Prepare To Take Office

Glendale, Ariz.- According to results provided by the Maricopa County Elections Office, Glendale voters have elected three new councilmembers. The votes still have to be approved through an official process by the County and the Glendale City Council.

In the Cholla District, Lauren Tolmachoff will replace Councilmember Manny Martinez who did not seek another term.

In the Barrel District, Bart Turner takes over for Vice Mayor Yvonne Knaack, who also chose not to seek another term on the council.

And finally, in the Ocotillo District, Jamie Aldama will replace incumbent Norma Alvarez.

All election results are unofficial until they go before the Maricopa County Board of Supervisors which is scheduled to occur Tuesday, Nov. 19. Then on Monday, Nov. 24, the Glendale City Council will adopt the official canvass of votes. Please note, the Nov. 24 meeting is a regularly scheduled council meeting but is taking place on a Monday rather than typical Tuesday.

The installation of the City of Glendale's newest councilmembers will be held Tuesday, Dec. 9 at 6 p.m. in the Glendale Council Chambers.
